

Reference device:
Iphone X (375 * 812 px)

Thumbnail size survey (mobile)

Unit: px

News organization	Size variation	Width (Full)	Height (Full)	Width (Half)	Height (Half)
First Tuesday Journal	Full	294	176	n/a	n/a
The New York Times	Full, Half	325	227	156	104
The Bloomberg graphics	Full, Half	325	232	100	75
The Pudding	Full, Half	343	193	206	116
The Pew Research Center	Full, Half	345	194	146	83
The Wall Street Journal graphics	Full	345	231	n/a	n/a
The Economist	Full	351	198	n/a	n/a
FiveThirtyEight	Full, Half	355	266	100	75
Average		335	215	142	91

The Pudding

Full
(343 x 193 px)

How you play Spades is how you play life

First-of-its kind data exploration of Spades in the African-American community

By GABRIELLE HICKMON

Ranking the Biggest NBA Finals Carry Jobs

It is mostly LeBron James.

By RUSSELL COLBERG

Half
(206 x 116 px)

HOW-TO

SEE ALL >

We created a speaker rider. Journalism didn't have one.

By THE PUDDING TEAM

How to Make Dope Shit Part 3: Storytelling

By ILIA BLINDERMAN

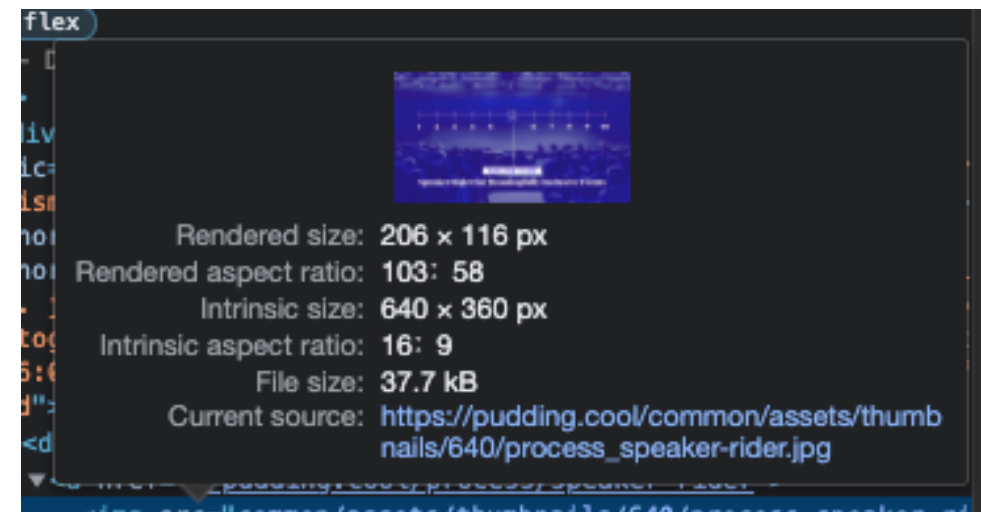

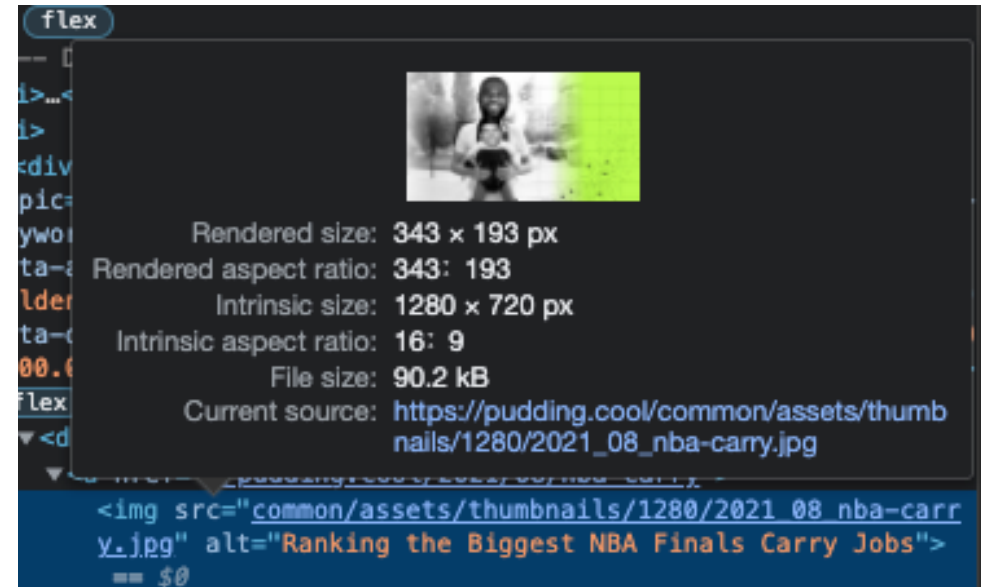

Continue, Pivot, or Put It Down

By AMBER THOMAS

The Courage (and Disappointment) of Pitching a Visual Essay

By ERIN DAVIS

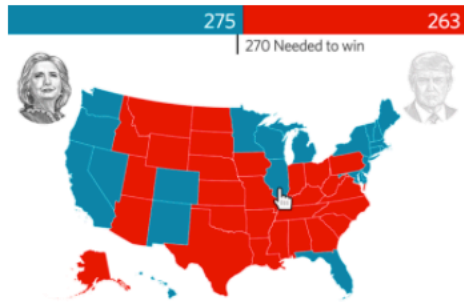

The Wall Street Journal Graphics

Full
(345 x 231 px)

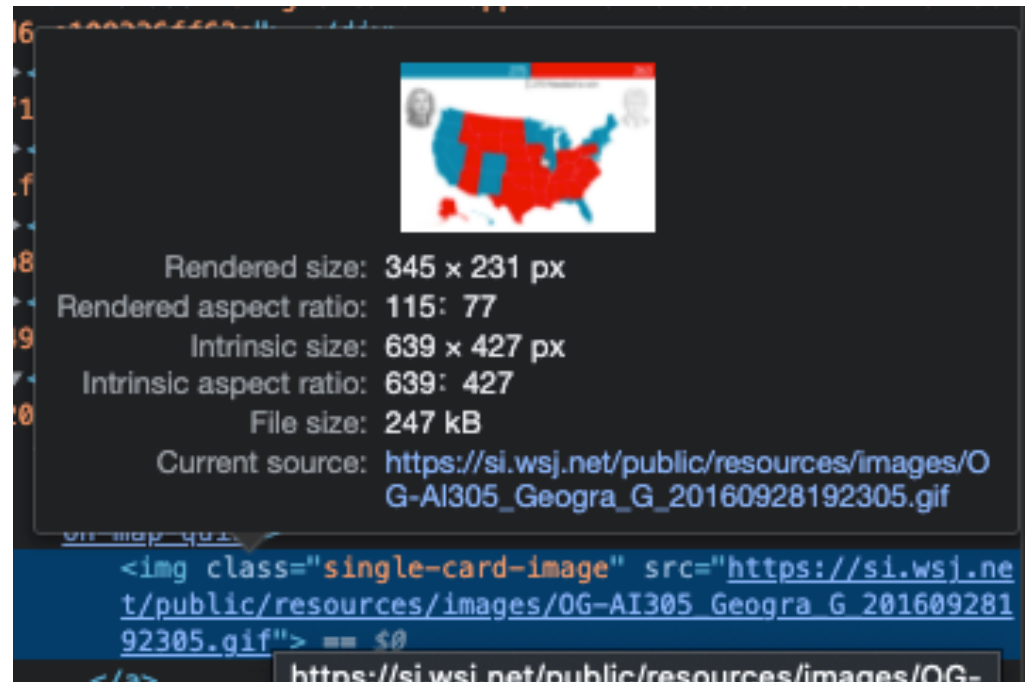

Pulse of the nation: How does U.S. mood change on Twitter?

Measuring the content of millions of Twitter messages each hour is one way to gauge the nation's changing mood in near-real time. Here, the Wall Street Journal and IHS Markit have plotted that sentiment, comparing it to recent norms.

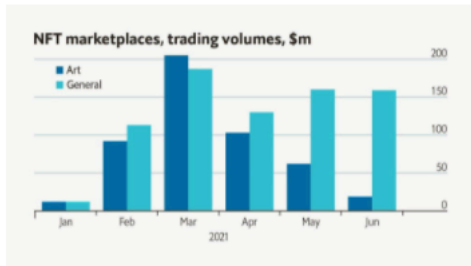

Guess the 2016 Electoral College Map

Complete all the states in the map, then submit it in our contest and share it on social media.

The Economist

Full
(351 x 198 px)

Daily chart

NFTs are not just for digital art—and their popularity is growing

Now The Economist is experimenting with an NFT, to raise money for a good cause

Daily chart

A chastened WeWork lists on the
New York Stock Exchange

The company is better disciplined, but still unprofitable

The Bloomberg graphics

Full
(325 x 232 px)

Half
(100 x 75 px)

≡ Bloomberg Subscribe

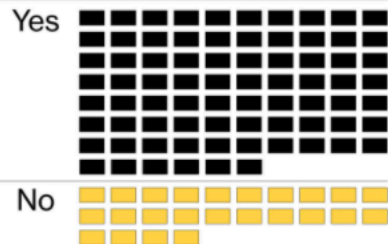

Graphics

Equality

Companies Open Up on Racial Data Even as Representation Lags

by Jeff Green, Gerald Porter Jr., Cedric Sam, Dina Bass, Ryan Beene, Kim Bhasin, Thomas Black, Kristen V Brown, Kevin Crowley, Matt Day, Joe Deaux, Gerson Freitas Jr, Nico Grant, Corinne Gretler, Riley Griffin, Mark Gurman, Jordyn Holman, Julie Johnsson, Tiffany Kary, Ian King, Angelica LaVito, Robert Langreth, Hannah Levitt, Scott Moritz, Sridhar Natarajan, Keith Naughton, Christopher Palmeri, Leslie Patton, Brett Pulley, Tony Robinson, Josh Saul, Deena Shanker, Lucas Shaw, Gerry Smith, Jennifer Surane, John Tozzi, Will Wade, Kurt Wagner, David Welch, David Wethe, Natalie Wong, Silla Brush, Brendan Case, Jackie Davalos, Katherine Doherty, Dana Hull, Edward Ludlow, Max Reyes and Fiona Rutherford

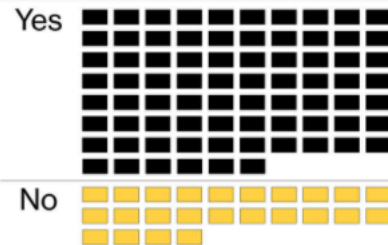

Is the company's EEO-1 data publicly available in full?

How to Stop 30 Years of Failing to Cut Emissions

≡ Bloomberg Subscribe

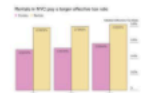

Is the company's EEO-1 data publicly available in full?

How to Stop 30 Years of Failing to Cut Emissions

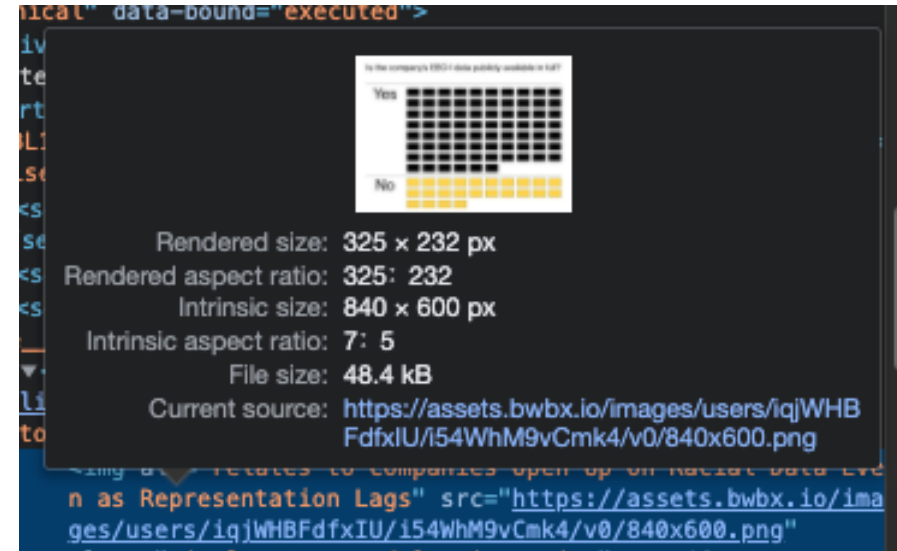

Hot Vax Summer to Winter of Discontent — Stagflation-Lite Looms

Methodology: How Bloomberg Examined New York City's Valuation of Class 2 Residential Properties

How a $2 Million Luxury Condo in Brooklyn Ends Up With a $157 Tax Bill

by Jason Grotto, Caleb Melby, Mira Rojanasakul and Paul Murray

FiveThirtyEight

Full
(355 x 266 px)

FiveThirtyEight

DONALD TRUMP

A Majority Of Republican Voters Actively Want Trump To Run For President Again

By Nathaniel Rakich and Mackenzie Wilkes

MLB

The Red Sox Seemed Unstoppable. Then The Astros Turned The Tables.

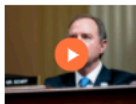

By Neil Paine

POLITICS PODCAST

Adam Schiff Says 'There's No Magic Button To Push' To Protect Democracy

FiveThirtyEight

THE RIDDLER

Half
(100 x 75 px)

FiveThirtyEight

DONALD TRUMP

A Majority Of Republican Voters Actively Want Trump To Run For President Again

By Nathaniel Rakich and Mackenzie Wilkes

MLB

The Red Sox Seemed Unstoppable. Then The Astros Turned The Tables.

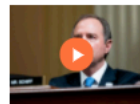

By Neil Paine

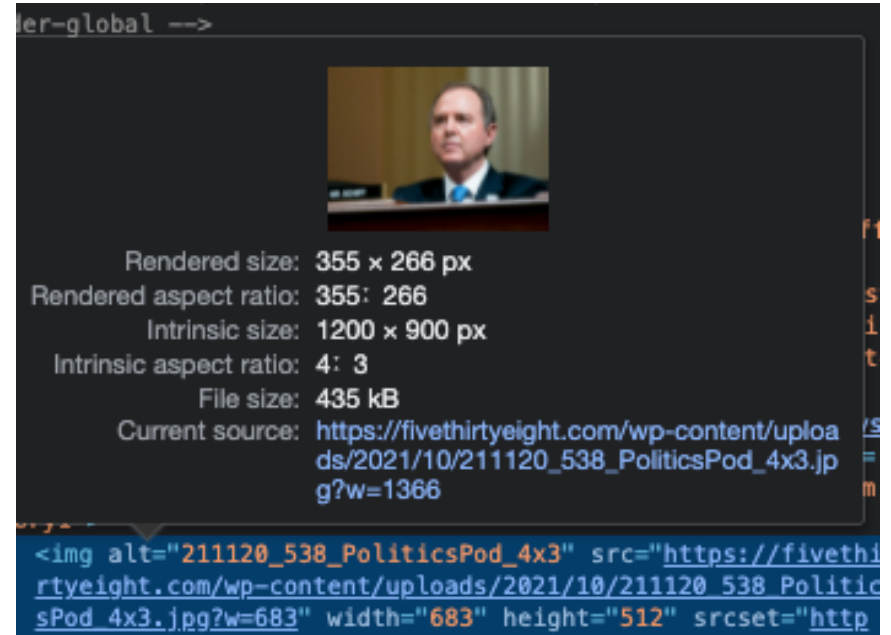

POLITICS PODCAST

Adam Schiff Says 'There's No Magic Button To Push' To Protect Democracy

FiveThirtyEight

THE RIDDLER

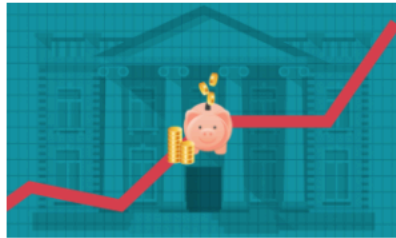

First Tuesday Journal

Full
(294 x 176 px)

Category: Economics

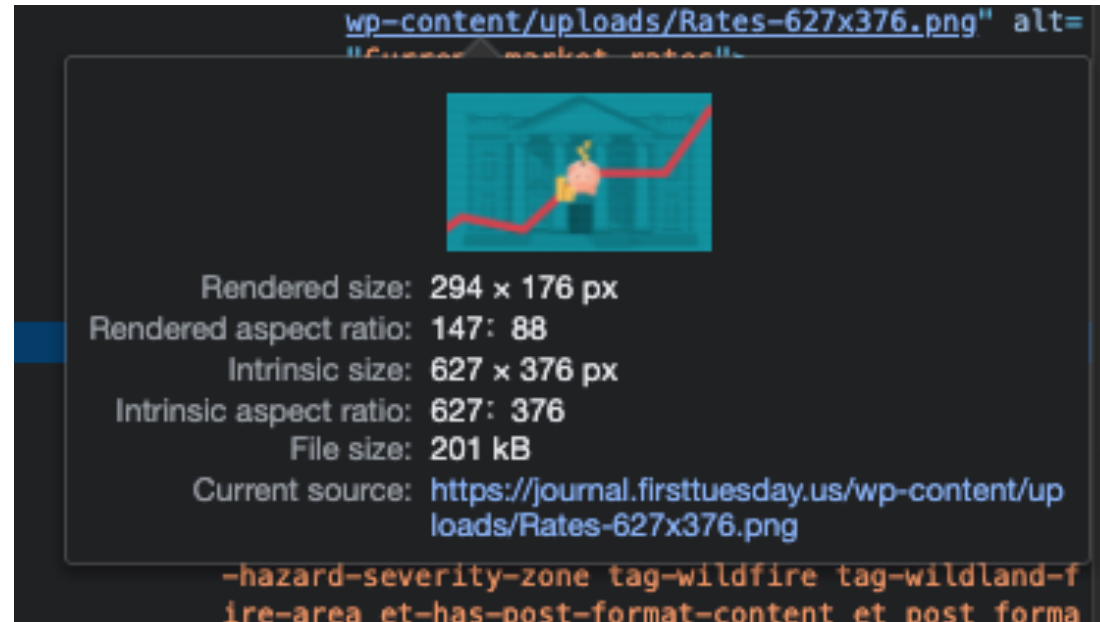

Current market rates

by ft Editorial Staff | Oct 22, 2021 | Charts,
Economics, Finance, Interest Rates, Market Watch,
Real Estate | 22 🗨️

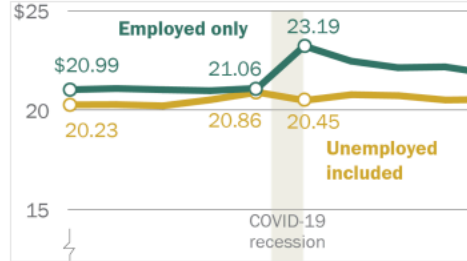

Where are mortgage rates now?
Check out our weekly interest rate update to track the latest market rates.

READ MORE

The Pew Research Center

Full
(345 x 194 px)

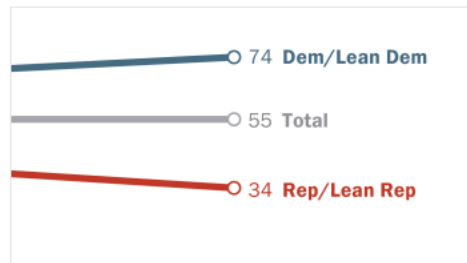

SHORT READ | SEP 7, 2021

Despite the pandemic, wage growth held firm for most U.S. workers, with little effect on inequality

Earnings overall have held steady through the pandemic in part because lower-wage workers experienced steeper job losses.

• SEE ALL CORONAVIRUS RESEARCH >

SHORT READ | SEP 3, 2021

Half
(146 x 83 px)

FILTER + Clear All ✕ Update

For most U.S. workers, with little effect on inequality

Earnings overall have held steady through the pandemic in part because lower-wage workers experienced steeper job losses.

SHORT READ | SEP 3, 2021

Majorities of Americans say unions have a positive effect on U.S. and that decline in union membership is bad

A narrow majority of Americans continue to say labor unions have a positive effect on the way things are going in the United States.

REPORT | SEP 1, 2021

The Internet and the Pandemic

Nine-in-ten Americans say the internet has been essential or important to them, many made video calls and 40% used technology in new ways. But while tech was a lifeline for some, others faced struggles.

The New York Times

Full
(325 x 227 px)

TheUpshot

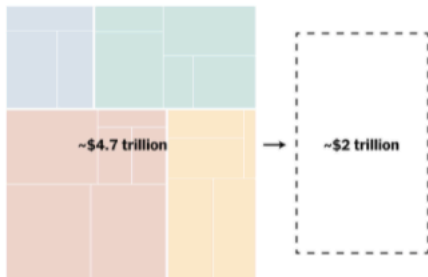

CASPER HEDBERG FOR THE INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE

Men Are Caregivers, Too, in Democrats' Plan

Compared with its peers, the U.S. has little in the way of family policy, but where it exists, it has mostly treated men and women the same. The Democrats' plan would cement that.

2d ago

The Democrats Have a Lot of

Half
(156 x 104 px)

Which of These 4 Family Policies Deserves Top Priority?

MARY ALTAFFER/ASSOCIATED PRESS

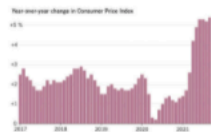

We asked 18 academics what they would choose if they could pick only one, as Senator Manchin has reportedly advised.

October 16, 2021

Why Inflation Is Surging

Inflation numbers this week showed a 5.4 percent surge in consumer prices in the 12 months ended in September. Here's what to know.

October 13, 2021

BY THE NEW YORK TIMES |
SOURCE: BUREAU OF LABOR
STATISTICS

There Is Shadow Inflation Taking Place All Around Us

DMITRY KOSTYUKOV FOR THE NEW YORK TIMES

Some companies haven't been raising prices. Instead, they've been cutting back customer services and conveniences, but how should that be

